

Mark Russell Clinic

at

The Cutter Farm

Sunday, April 26th & Monday, April 27th

Mark Russell's training system is based on the classical principles of dressage integrated with the principles of natural horsemanship. Riders will learn to read their horse's individual emotional and physical language and learn how to develop their horse in relaxation, flexibility, and strength. The rider will also learn to develop the horse's true and natural gaits and build engagement for advanced work.

Mark provides individual attention to each rider. His classical training methods are beneficial to any discipline of riding and he welcomes riders of all backgrounds.
